RACE AND RACISM IN PUERTO RICO AND THE CARIBBEAN

July 30 | 2:00 - 4:00 PM (EST)
Live on YouTube
www.youtube.com/user/UFLatinAmerica

Join us for a discussion on how race and racism affect the daily lives of Black and Afrodescendants in the Caribbean and how the Black Lives Matter movement has made an impact in the region. The event seeks to provide a context for racial discrimination and racist practices in the Caribbean, highlighting ongoing struggles and challenges as well as spaces for activism.

Moderator
Isar Godreau, Researcher
Institute of Interdisciplinary Research, University of Puerto Rico at Cayey

Speakers

Zaire Z. Dinzey-Flores
Departments of Sociology and Latino & Caribbean Studies
Rutgers University, New Brunswick

Edward Paulino
Assistant Professor
CUNY, John Jay College’s Department of History

Ana Teresa Toro
Writer, Journalist, Speaker, Independent

Dr. Chantalle Verna
Associate Professor of History and International Relations
Florida International University