

SARGASSUM COURSE FOR EDUCATORS!

Our field course will immerse you into the world of Sargassum manager, scientist and entrepreneurs. You will learn how community members are dealing with the massive arrivals of this macroalgae on their beaches. Lastly, you will learn how to collect data as citizen scientist and be part of the solution.

Puerto Morelos

Quintana Roo

Mexico

July 13-19, 2025

FOR WHOM:

U.S. K-12 Educators living in Sargassum affected areas who are willing to engage in regular Sargassum monitoring through Citizen Science

COST:

Participants need to cover airfare (-$500.00 USD) and food (30 USD per day). Accommodation, Instructor salaries, local transport, materials and entrance to attractions are covered.

HOW TO APPLY:

Application form can be found here: <https://go.fiu.edu/SARGASSUM-FieldCourse>

CONTACT:

franziskaelmer@hotmail.com

This Program is made possible with support from LACC's U.S. Department of Education Title VI Grant.

FIU

Kimberly Green
Latin American and Caribbean Center